“The cheapest fee cost a family 324 pesos.”

WorldRemit · fee
$1.99 → 6,628 MXN

Finabien · fee
$2.99 → 6,952 MXN

The lower fee delivered less money. The difference was hidden in the exchange rate, and nobody shows senders that number before they pay. Envío Claro does, in Spanish, on the web, by phone, or by WhatsApp voice memo.

Source: Profeco, “Quién es Quién en el envío de dinero”, Aug 29, 2026 · $400 USD → Mexico, bank deposit

THE PROBLEM

The fee is the small part. The exchange rate, and now a cash tax, is where the money goes.

3 costs

Fee + a markup hidden in the exchange rate + 1% federal tax if you pay in cash. Senders see the fee. Law requires the rate, not the markup.

CFPB Reg. E §1005.31 · IRC §4475 (in force Jan 1, 2026)

65–74%

of Honduran, Guatemalan and Salvadoran migrants have a bank account (vs 84% of Mexicans). Cash senders pay the tax, and they're the ones comparison apps miss.

BBVA Research via Telemundo / Crónica, 2026

~30%

of Honduras's GDP is remittances (El Salvador ~27%, Guatemala ~21%). Mexico received $61.7B in 2025. Every point of cost is real money for real families.

UPI / Diario El Mundo 2025 · Banxico via Zeta Tijuana, Feb 2026

Who it's for on Monday: a mom in Corona, Queens who sends $300 to Honduras every month, pays cash at the bodega counter, prefers WhatsApp voice memos to apps, and has never been told what the exchange rate costs her.

THE PRODUCT: LIVE TODAY

One honest answer, three ways to ask.

🌐 Web: envio-claro-ahora.base44.app

Amount, country, how you pay → every provider ranked by true total cost, plus alerts: the fee trap, the 1% cash tax and how to avoid it, Directo a México closing Nov 20, scam red flags. 🔊 Read aloud in Spanish.

📞 Call: +1 (646) 212-2770

No smartphone, no reading needed. Say “300 dólares a Honduras, en efectivo” and hear the real cost in a Spanish voice.

💬 WhatsApp: text or 🎤 voice memo

Ask follow-ups (“¿qué es el tipo de cambio escondido?”) and get patient explanations. It replies “🎤 Escuché: …” so people know they were understood.

7 countries: México, Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, Rep. Dominicana, Ecuador, Colombia. Same numbers on every channel: one tested cost engine. The AI explains; it never does the math.

HOW IT'S BUILT

Base44 is the app. Every number is sourced, dated and tested.

Base44

The web app families use: page, data (providers, corridors, resources, anonymous comparisons), AI Spanish summary, hosting

Daytona

Hosts the cost-engine API. The test suite runs inside the sandbox before every deploy; a failing test blocks the release

ElevenLabs

Spanish voice, speech-to-text for voice memos, and the WhatsApp agent that explains in depth

VAPI

Spanish phone agent. Calls our quote tool, so it repeats real numbers, never invented ones

Twilio

Phone number, WhatsApp, and a Function that receives voice memos

total_cost = fee + amount × markup + cash_tax cash_tax   = 1% × amount  (only if paid in cash)
received   = amount × mid_rate × (1 − markup)

Our test suite reproduces Profeco's 324-peso gap exactly. Mid-market rate: daily reference (open.er-api.com).

- ✓ Every provider row cites its source and date: Profeco (Sep–Oct 2026), World Bank Remittance Prices Worldwide, provider sites
- ✓ No referral fees from any provider. Neutrality is the product
- ✓ No accounts. No names, numbers or immigration status stored
- ✓ Educational information, not financial advice. Official hotlines are hardcoded, never AI-generated

WHY NOW · BUSINESS MODEL · NEXT

Comparison sites serve people already online. We serve the person in line with cash.

Why now

- ✓ 1% cash-remittance tax since Jan 1, 2026
- ✓ Banxico's Directo a México closes Nov 20, 2026, with no announced replacement
- ✓ Global average cost 6.36% vs the 3% UN target (World Bank, Q3 2025)

Model

- ✓ Free for families, always
- ✓ Credit unions, consulates and community organizations license a white-label version for their members
- ✓ Never paid by providers. Monito and others take referral fees; we don't

Next 90 days
